

10TH ANNUAL INTERNATIONAL DAY OF PEACE

September 21, 2012 from 9:00 – 1:00

At the Keeling Puri Peace Plaza

A Life Like Mine, How Children Live Around the World

Stimulate your students by reading A Life Like Mine, a sensitive and uplifting book that examines children's rights and how these rights are being met around the world.

Each class attending the International Day of Peace will receive a copy of this book as well as passport holders and passports for all of their students.

This book will set the theme for the day by employing interactive activities that relate to the universal rights of children regarding essentials such as clean water, access to education, and a safe place to live. Peace Day always considers it essential to choose activities and themes that promote an understanding of other cultures and countries.

- Meet Dr. Barbara Reynolds, Senior Advisor, Special Projects for UNICEF and our special guest from the United Nations.

- Meet Eleanor Roosevelt, represented by storyteller, Megan Wells.

Renowned, respected, and admired, Eleanor Roosevelt's humanitarian efforts on behalf of children, the oppressed and the poor include working at the UN to found UNICEF and establish the Universal Declaration of Human Rights. She was, as President Truman said, "First Lady of the World."

Children attending can

- Help to write their own version of a Universal Declaration of Children's Rights
- Learn about the native countries of immigrants to the Rock River Valley

- Celebrate peace by singing as a class or choir
- Watch the Peace Puppeteers perform
- Win a Peace Pole for display at their school – a gift from the Peace Pole Makers and the Keeling family (all students in attendance will be included in a drawing for a peace pole for their school)
